

CATHOLIC SOCIAL TEACHING IN ACTION

The CAPP group in Malta, in connection with their addressing “Small things for big impact. Renewal post-pandemic”, recently met with Archbishop Charles Scicluna. In addition to his role as Archbishop of Malta, HE Scicluna is an Adjunct Secretary of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, and has assisted Pope Francis in dealing with clerical sexual abuse cases of minors around the world. The chapter's Ecclesiastical Co-ordinator, Auxiliary Bishop Joseph Galea Curmi, is pictured behind the Archbishop.

Speaking of "small things for big impact", this partial group of CAPP members contains, among other notables, a former Prime Minister and the past Vice-Chair of the Council of the Economy, Holy See.

